

www.hodgsonbunthouse.com

A series of poignant and beautifully funny depressions can start stories about life in a small north Idaho valley.

Everything I Know Came from the Burkhouse

By Lois Hodgson

Stories written about a time that was, a family that was, and a valley that still is.
The winters are still harsh and, though
the roads are greatly improved since the time in these stories,
they have never been paved.